

VISION 2023

The Institute of Humanistic Research of the Autonomous University of San Luis Potosí, will be widely recognized in 2023 as an entity of the highest quality, socially responsible, inclusive, integrated and solidly linked with its environment; Promoter of freedom of thought and expression, without any relation of ideological dependence or partisan politics and its high degree of governance, as a local, regional, national and international reference pole; for their contributions in the development of knowledge, humanities, culture, and their timely contributions and with the highest quality standards.